PLANS COMPLETED FOR HOME TALENT ENTERTAINMENT

Concert By Fifth Regiment Band And "The Minstrel Quarette" Will Be Features

Miss Mary Mitchell the Well Known Soprano of Clearfield Will Sing—Show Will be Presented Thursday & Friday.

The Firemen and the Fifth Regiment band have nearly completed all the details for the presentation of the band concert and vaudeville in the opera house Thursday and Friday of this week. The major portion of the entertainment will consist of a first class band concert; the band giving it needs no local introduction. This band has for years easily taken first prize at all the conventions in this section of the state where a band contest was a feature of the program, and usually in competition with the very best bands of the region.

Many of the Fifth Regiment band players individually enjoy a wide reputation as musicians of high merit. Harry P. Bridge is well known as a cornet soloist and has no equal outside the professional ranks, while Irven C. Kester, though younger, is equally as good. When players like Bridge, Kester and Henry I. Wilson—men who have repeatedly drawn down the highest encomiums of the best music critics—are scheduled to appear before a local audience all lovers of good music are thereby assured of hearing the best there is, with nothing further to be desired.

Who is there that does not love good music? Such persons are not very numerous but the few there are were properly designated by Shakespeare some 300 years ago.

Besides the band concert the special features by local talent will constitute a whole show. Miss Mary Mitchell will sing. The "Minstrel Quarteete" and the "Juevenile Reubens" will please any audience.

Our young people should be encouraged and this can be done in no better way than to show them that thei refforts are appreciated when they appear upon the stage, appreciation being manifested by a large and interested attendance at the performances.

The firemen will feel very grateful to the public if sufficient interest is shown to fill every seat in the Opera House at both performances, they are not asking for donations in this case but will give full value for all money received, and the money will remain right here in town.

PROBE INTO ACTIVITIES OF BREWER'S CONTINUES TODAY

Pittsburgh, Feb. 21. (By United Press)— United States district attorney Humes continued to delve into the alleged political activities of the brewers association of Pennsylvania before the federal grand jury today. It was reported that, federal agents will extend the probe of dealings with politics into Cambria county today or tomorrow. There were signs of determination to find what had been done with certain funds handled by Cambria county brewers.

CHICAGO POLICE WATCH STATION FOR JEAN CRONES

Chicago Feb. 21 (By United Press)—Police guarded every railway station closely today and detectives scrutinized passengers from every train in the belief that Jean Crones, alleged leader of the anarchist plot, might make a dare devil return to Chicago. U. S. OFFICIALS TO ASCERTAIN VALUE OF SCOUTING SYSTEM

Wireless in Leitzinger's Store Will Receive Message at Eleven O'clock

Tonight at 11 o'clock eastern time a message will flash from the big government wireless station at Arlington. It will be awaited by hundreds of amateur wireless operators all over the county and will be relayed from one to another until it has reached California, Texas and in fact every state in the union., Thousands of boy scouts will be waiting at the various stations throughout the country to receive the message as it comes in. The message itself consists of a few words appropriate to Washington's birthday and in most big cities the scouts have arranged to carry it to the mayor.

Behind this apparently simple demonstration stands a wholly serious experiment for the government, for this is an effort on the part of the U. S. army officials to ascertain the practical value of the scouting movement and especially of the amateur wireless operators throughout the United States, in case of war or other emergency. So the time is to be carefully noted and the results reported to headquarters in Washington. In Clearfield the big wireless in Leitzinger's store has been called into requisition and a patrol of eight scouts from troop 2 will be on hand to receive the government's message.

CRISIS EXPECTED IN THE LUSITANIA SITUATION SOON

Situation Made Worse by Armed Merchantmen Proclamation

Washington, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—The situation in the Lusitania controversy has been made as grave as it was before the recent German concession as a result of Germany's issuance of the armed merchantmen proclamation. This was affirmed by the state department today. The possibility of a crisis arising from execution of the German and Austrian proclamation was admitted by the department. It shall arrive, it was stated, if American citizens are killed by the sinking of merchantmen or by the indefinite postponment of the Lusitania settlement. Officials refused to discuss the personal antagonism between Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Bernsdorff. It was stated, however, that any plan Secretary Lansing may have in the matter "will certainly not be given to the press before he has discussed them with the Ambassador."

AMERICANIZING FOREIGNERS' HOMES

This is the kitchen of the home of a family of four, a man, his wife and two children. Foreigners who have come to this country to make it their home.

The bedroom in this home was below the ground. The father of the family was suffering from tuberculosis, and, owing to the congested sleeping and living quarters, was in danger of transmitting the disease to the other members of the family.

The insanitary condition was discovered by an agent of the Housing Bureau of the State Department of Health. By working in co-operation with the local charitable organizations a decent four-room house was obtained for the family and the insanitary basement closed.

Through the Housing Bureau, Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon is endeavoring to improve conditions in certain sections of the State where there is a congested population and insanitary conditions almost equal to the slums of our large cities.

N.Y. HEALTH BOARD STARTS CRUSADE AGAINST LIQUOR

During Entire Week Department Purposes to Concentrate Forces In Fight

Commissioner Believes in Total Abstinence Does Not Think Campaign Will Result in Suppression of Liquor Traffic.

New York, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—If you derived an annual revenue of nearly $12,000 from the sale of intoxicants would you inaugurate a crusade for the suppression of the liquor traffic?

This is precisely what the city of New York has done. For an entire week beginning today the city department of health purposes to concentrate its forces for spreading its propaganda for temperance in the use of alcohol. Commissioner Emerson of the health department personally believes in total abstinence. He does not expect his campaign to result in a total suppression of the liquor traffic in the metropolis, but he confidently hopes that it will have the effect of reducing the consumption of intoxicants. In connection with his crusade he has put his official stamp of approval upon Thomas A. Edison's advocacy of the abolition of strong drink and the reduction of alcohol in beer to 2 per cent.

The official temperance crusade which was launched today is probably the first of its kind ever undertaken by any municipality in this country. During the week sanitary inspectors of the department of health will call at every place in the city where hard drinks are sold and leave pamphlets for those present to read, study, and digest—if they are so minded.

The department intends to carry its campaign into the richest and most luxurious of the city's drinking places. No exclusive congregation of Fifth Avenue club men will be immune from the intrusion

The character of some of the pamphlets will make them conspicuous, whether convivial or not. An unconcerned club fellow may be slipping his carefully compounded beverage when a pamphlet may be presented to him—if distributors get by the doormen—for his edification between swallows. On the front page is seen a cartoon representing a bibulous man seated at a table on which stands a glass of liquid labeled "Booze," while another figure, perched on a stepladder, gazes into the drinker's brain through a hole in his skull and murmurs "Nobody home."

Copies of this pamphlet and four others—two similar to it in character and two considered more dignified, a full house of temperance talks—will be left in all of the clubs, hotels, safes' saloons and restaurants in the city. And the same sort of leaflets that are deposited on the beer gummed bars of the tenement districts will be left on the polished tables of the clubs.

Dr. Charles F. Boldman, director of the bureau of public health education, is no respecter of places where good fellows get together. Being somewhat of a chemist, he has discovered that alcohol is alcohol wherever it is found. It's all "booze" to him and he has planned, therefore, that not matter where he does it, he who drinks may read the health department's temperance pamphlets.

So today there began an invasion of the clubs and hotels, an invasion that made Fifth Avenue and Broadway sit up and take notice. Dressed-up doormen and horrified hallboys bullied and remonstrated, but the arm of the law pushed open the big, carved doors, reached inside to the terrible presence of the senior member himself, and deposited before his incredulous eyes the screaming cartoons and shouting sentences of the health department's temperance literature.

The distribution of the pamphlets is but one feature of the campaign planned for the week. Tomorrow lantern slides are to be shown in nearly every motion pictures theatre in the city, and on each slide will be this printed encouragement of the one or two who may have gathered together for their second month's ride on the water wagon

"The intemperate use of alcohol is filling our asylums, hospitals, homes and jails. These are facts vouched for by the department of health, City of New York."

Wednesday will be "Croton Water Day." On that day, by direction of the city authorities, the teachers in all the public schools will tell their pupils how pure is Croton water and explain to them how pernicious is the alcoholic drink.

ANTHRACITE COAL MEN MEET TODAY TO DISCUSS WAGES

If Miner's Demands are Granted Price of Coal will be Increased Sixty Cents

[illegible] representatives of Miners are Watching Situation Closely and Being Everything to Prevent a Big Strike.

New York, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—To see whether they can agree on wages and working conditions to replace those expiring April 1, representatives of hard coal mine owners and hard coal miners met here today.

The miners want 20 per cent increase in wages, the mine run system and better working conditions. The operators [illegible] enough to [illegible] demands and [illegible] miners are granted the price of coal will go up 50 cents a ton to the consumer, which will take about $[illegible],000,000 a year more out of the consumer's pocket.

The miners reply that the war has made so much business for the coal men that they are making more money than they ever did before.

Representativese of the Allies [illegible] of manufacturers in America are watching the situation closely and will do everything in their power to prevent a big coal strike and the paralyzing of business thereby.

It is not believed probable that a general miners' strike will be called but in view of the distance apart the miners and operators seem to be on the new agreement, men in a position to know say it will be a stiff fight with a strike not altogether an impossibility.

The miners include in their demands an 8 hour day with time and a half for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays.

AVEZZANO, RUINED BY AN EARTHQUAKE HAS BEEN REBUILT

Italian-Americans Returned to City And Aided Friends And Relatives

Call of Blood Stronger Than Ecstasy With Which They Were Meeting In America—City Restored Within a Year.

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Avezzano, Italy, Feb. 21. (By Mail)—Thanks largely to Italian-Americans, Avezzano, which just a year ago today suffered one of the worst earthquake disasters in the history of the world, is today almost a completely restored city.

In just one year as much has been done towards rebuilding this city as has been accomplished at Messina in the ten years that have elapsed since it suffered a similar disaster. In both instances America played a large part in the work of restoration but at Avezzano American spirit and American influence accomplished miracles which just plain American dollars could not do at Messina.

Where a year ago the earthquake reduced Avezzano to a mere mass of ruins from which only 1200 people out of a total population of 13000 escaped, the news struck a responsive chord in the hearts of a particular class of people in America. These Italians were themselves in [illegible] had lived in and emigrated from Avezzano or the country immediately around it. Thousands of them had relatives here, and the call of blood as well as the call of the city of their nativity proved stronger than the call of success they were meeting with in their new homes in America.

Almost without exception these former residents of Avezzano abandoned their prospects in America and returned to succor their relatives and help build up the city of their birth. But in coming back to Italy they brought with them more than the few hundred or few thousand dollars that the average Italian immigrant accumulates in America before returning home. They brought with them the American spirit, American methods and American traditions. They brought with them an ineradicable remembrance of how San Francisco had risen from its ruins—because of them themselves had seen it after the Frisco quake—and they set about doing at Avezzano what they had seen Americans do at Frisco. The results have amazed all Italy, and especially Messina, which two years after its disaster, [illegible] to be its old self.

Avezzano whose population was [illegible] 13,000 to 1,200 by the [illegible] has 5,000 inhabitants. [illegible] possibly 1,000 of the survivors who remain here, the great [illegible] of the remainder are returned [illegible] That is why [illegible] faster than a [illegible] in America.

The government extended the same [illegible] to Avezzano that was extended to Messina, but without the Italian-American element it would hardly be what they are today. These enterprises [illegible] of which both the [illegible] Americans have cause to be [illegible] carried out the demolition [illegible] partly wrecked houses, [illegible] walls, construction [illegible] and temporary [illegible] to contain 11,000 rooms, [illegible] containing 7,000 more rooms are being constructed; and [illegible] of the houses not [illegible] water works [illegible] light plant in full [illegible] possible for the [illegible] ions and are [illegible] up to Avezzano with [illegible] and regular square blocks [illegible] after the American fashion of town building [illegible] quite contrary to Italian customs, [illegible] streets, [illegible] and the [illegible] ing [illegible] confront [illegible] and are [illegible] employed, constructing [illegible] providing [illegible] sanitation [illegible] for the people. A DEBT OF HONOR.

Republican politicians in the Legislature who defeated the local option bill at the last sesson made no secret of their reasons for espousing the cause of the liquor interests. Some of them at least were frank enough to base thei ropposition, not on the pretense that any principle of liberty was involved, but on the ground that having accepted money from the liquor men and having spent it for political purposes they regarded it as a "debt of honor," and were bound to legislate for the liquor men and not for the people. It is this "debt of honor" which is now the subject of investigation before a Federal Grand Jury in Pittsburgh, an inquiry that will not be satisfied until the whole story be laid bare. It is a tale of corrupt campaigning, of bought elections and legislation, of debauched officials. No one party has been the beneficiary of these contributions from the liquor men. Perhaps, as has been suggested in their defense, the brewer, distiller and saloonkeeper have acted in self-defense; but the system is none the less vicious. It is to be hope that no legal technicalities will be permitted to stop the probe until it has reached the bottom of the whole ugly business.—Public Ledger.

A PARABLE.

This time Russia in place of Germany! "Every month of the war has enriched the Russians," says Minister of Finance Bark, and gives as incontrovertible proof of the fact that "there is more money in the Russian savings banks than ever before." The story of the German soldiers, the beer keg and the ten-pfennig piece can not have reached Petrograd. The soldiers had been detailed to carry the keg after their company and to sell drinks out of it for ten pfennigs a drink. The heat of the day overcame the one with the money. He handed this ten pfennigs to the keg bearer and took a drink. He shouldered the keg. A mile further along the road th other soldier was overcome with thirst. He handed his friend the ten pfennig piece and took a drink. They continued to exchange the ten pfennig piece for drinks all day. When they reached camp they found that though every drink had been paid for and they had just as much money as ever—there was no beer. In like manner Russia and Germany may have as much money as ever and every shell made within their borders may have been paid for; but every day the stock of beer and skittles runs lower. And what availeth it a man, though his bank be bursting with gold, if there be no balm of Gilead?—Public Ledger.

RURAL GUARDIANS PROTECT CITY AND COUNTRY

Communicable disease is on the decrease in Pennsylvania. Statistics show that each year, in spite of the fact that the population of the State is increasing at the rate of one hundred and twenty thousand annually, the general health of the public is improving.

One of the factors which has aided the State Department of Health in the accomplishment of this work has been the rural health officers. There are some seven hundred of these officers, who cover every second-class township in Pennsylvania.

Until Dr. Samuel G. Dixon organized the State Department of Health ten years ago no effort was made in the rural districts in Pennsylvania to enforce quarantine, school exclusion, or to disinfect following cases of communicable disease. As a result of the close relation between the country and the State and the continuous exchange of products this made the country districts a menace to the cities.

Since the organization of the Department of Health these officers have served as the defensive force to keep disease from spreading among the residents of the rural districts, and from there into the cities, towns and boroughs.

Their supervision of cases of typhoid fever on dairy farms and the enforcement of the restrictions, preventing the careless disposal of the milk where such illnesses exist, has been one of the important factors in the reduction of typhoid fever in the State.

News Notes on Health

Individual illness places a tax upon the entire community. The prolonged sickness of wage earners is apt to result in poverty for themselves and their families. Indigency and crime itself are often lurking in the trail of disease.

National efficiency must rest upon the sound foundation of health. The reduction of sickness and death from preventable diseases should be the first step in our preparation for self-defense. Lord Beaconsfield said, "The public health is the foundation on which reposes the happiness of the people and the power of a country. The care of the public health is the first duty of a statesman."

In some states in the union there has been an increasing per centage of dependents as they have become more thickly populated. In addition to the enormous losses from death due to preventable disease when health laws are not enforced, there is a tremendous annual expenditure necessitated by this growing number of those who are unable to bear their part in the world's work.

The insane, the feeble-minded, the consumptive and the pauper are a heavy burden upon the tax payer.

Provisions and expenditures which will aid in the reduction of those things which sap the vitality of the nation, will aid in preventing the increased taxation for the support of the growing army of the unfit.

Participation of the federal government through the United States public health service in the study and control of tuberculosis is urged by a resolution adopted by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis made public today.

The National Association proposes that by act of congress a special division of tuberculosis be established in the United States public health service with an adequate appropriation. This division should be manned by experts and should study the tuberculosis problem from every point of view and should, so far as possible, set up standards for the treatment and prevention of the disease throughout the country. One of the problems which it is proposed to study first would be that of the indigent migratory consumptive, particularly in the health resorts of various parts of the United States, such as California, New Mexico, Colorado and Texas. Another problem which it is proposed shoud be studied is that relating to the causes of tuberculosis. A bill introduced by congressman Kent of California in the house and by Senator Norris of Nebraska in senate provides for some of the things which the National association asks for and also far a federal subsidy to hospitals caring for non-resident consumptives.

Commenting on the resolution Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, says "In spite of the fact that tuberculosis is costing the United States from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 every year in lives lost, the amount of money being spent annually by all private and public agencieae is not much more than $20,000,000; and while a nation-wide crusade to stamp out tuberculosis has been organized, we are still ignorant of many of the factors that produce it. A few thousand dollars wisely spent in scientific research under federal supervision will secure results of incalculable benefit to this country."

MURDERERS ELECTROCUTED IN WESTERN PENITENTIARY

First Double Execution In Electric Chair in the Stact

St. College, Pa., Feb. 21. (By United Press)—George H. March and Roland S. Penington of Delaware county were electrocuted early today in the death house of the western penitentiary, seven miles from here, for the murder of S. Lewis Pinkerton more than two and one half years ago. It was the first double execution under the law in Pennsylvania substituting the electric chair for the gallows.

Just at dawn Pennington whimpering and with a face of ashen gray, was first led to the chair. In less than a minute he was strapped in position and at 7:22 A. M. 2100 volts shot through his body. The electrical apparatus worked without mishap. The prison physician pronounced Pennington dead after the fourth shock. Unnerved by the purring of the dynamo directly under the death chamber only a few feet from his cell, March was led sobbing to the fate of his fellow slayer. With his face buried in his hands he cried, "Oh Roland, why didn't they take me first?" Both bodies were claimed by relatives.

If the Children Have Colds or Croup---Clip Coupon Aelow

Good at Your Druggists for a 25c. Package Free of the Southern "External" Treatment That Relieves Colds Over Night, Croup in Fifteen Minutes.

No Dosing—You Just Rub it On Over Throat and Chest—Relieves By Inhalation.

In the South everyone uses the "outside" treatment for cold troubles—Vick's Vay-O-Rub Salve. It is quicker than internal medicines, and, what is more important to mothers with small children, is entirely external, and hence does not injure the delicate stomachs of the little chaps. Vap-O-Rub however, has never been introduced in Clearfield, and, in order that their customers may give it a trial arrangements are being made for the local druggists to give away a limited number of 25c packages free to the first of their customers who present the coupon below. None of the druggists have received their shipments, but as there will be a rush for these free packages it is advisable to present your coupon now and ask your druggist to reserve you a free jar.

Vap-O-Rub comes in salve form, and has a two-fold action. Externally it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, and internally it is inhaled as a vapor. For croup or cold troubles you just apply it well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors are inhaled with each breath, all night long, and carry the medication through the air passages to the lungs.

For all forms of cold troubles—from head colds, asthmatic and catarrhal troubles, down to deep or incipient pneumonia, Vap-O-Rub will be found far superior to internal medicines.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By GREEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidney if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

SOMEHTING SHOCKING FOR POOR RICHARD

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—An air of expectancy permated the atmosphere of advertising circles here today. Word has been given out that cabaret features, imported straight from "Paree" will be a part of the program at the tenth anniversary celebration of the founding of the Poor Richard club at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel tonight.

Every effort to get "a line" on the character of this part of the entertainment has met with dismal failure.

SIZE OF HARD COAL REDUCED TO FOUR

Chicago, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—Large mining companies today notified local coal dealers that after April 1 the number of sizes in hard coal will be reduced to four. There now are ten sizes. It is planned to have one size about like egg coal for use in furnaces, one like nut coal for use in ranges, a third the size of pea of buckwheat, called steam, and a fourth comparable to the present size called birdseye. Coal men say the number of sizes has caused waste because some sizes will suddenly lag on scales, forcing the sale of large amounts of them at prices below cost.

COTTON MILL INTERESTS TRYING TO KILL CHILD LAW

Author of Bill Sends Appeal to the People to Write Their Congressman

Washington, Feb. 21 (By United Press)—Charging that southern cotton mill interests are conspiring to kill the child labor bill, Representative Keating of Colorado, its author, today issued a warning to the public and an appeal to "write your congressman."

"The plan of the selfish interests is to stave off action on the bill in the senate until it will be sidetracked by the preparedness program and put over at least until next term," said eating. "The cotton mill interests hope to delay any action by the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, which is friendly to the legislation and reported it last session. They propose to this and that the legislative committee visit the mill districts.

By holding up the bill in committee until the preparedness bills get before the senate, they plan to have 8 or 10 southern Democratic senators then serve warning that they will begin an endless filibuster against the preparedness measures unless the child labor bill is isdetracked for the session. It is then hoped to sacrifice the child labor bill in the interest of the preparedness program. The people should know just what this conspiracy is. They should write their congressmen and senators. Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who is in charge of the bill in the senate, is friendly to the measure."

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of type into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

Although the breweries are able to turn out enough beer to satisfy their capacities, many Milwaukeeans had cultivated a taste for the foreign product. Now they must be content with the juice of the hops of their own making. Only one shipment of beer from a foreign country has been received in the city since the war started and that was from Holland. The entire shipment was purchased by one of the larger hotels and was exhausted within two days.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the Germans call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a teaspoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

DRINKING A DAIRY FARM DRY

Your family uses a quart or, perhaps, two quarts, of milk a day. What would you think of one that consumed three thousand quarts? That is the daily consumption of milk at the State's great Sanatorium at Mont Alto.

There are eleven hundred and fifty patients under treatment, and milk is one of the staple articles of diet prescribed by the Commissioner of Health, Samuel G. Dixon.

All of the dairy farms which supply the Institution are carefully inspected and must produce rich and cleanly milk to qualify for this use.

The patients are given milk and eggs between meals when their condition seems to require it, and as a result of good food in such ample quantities there are records of astonishing increase in the individual weight.

OSCEOLA SCHOOLS RAISE MONEY FOR LECTURE COURSE

Carnival In Fireman's Arcade Draws Large Crowd Friday Evening

Osceola Mills, Feb. 21. (Special)—The carnival held in the Fireman's Arcade on Friday evening by the teachers and pupils of the Osceola Public schools was a great success and over $175.00 realized which will be placed in the funds to help defray the expenses of the lecture course in which there is a deficit. The house was packed, many being unable to gain admission.

The opening chorus "We Hope You've Brough Your Smiles Along" put the audience in a good humor.

Under command of Kenneth Hewes a company of soldier boys gave an exhibition of their "Preparedness."

Nine girls demonstrated in song how the stars and stripes were made Their production of a beautiful large flag was heartily applauded.

A two part play representing the boyhood days and the wedding of George Washington was presented by a large cast of pupils who from the stage manager to the person who performed the ceremony all rendered their parts in a creditable manner.

A festival, food sale, side show, and other attractions on the second floor followed the entertainment and assisted in swelling the receipts. The teachers who worked and planned the affair deserve credit for it. With the exception of the discomforts of the crowded house everybody enjoyed the occasion.

FAMOUS COMPOSER MADE MEMBER OF COLLEGE FACULTY

Edgar Stillman Kelley Given Position to Prevent Poverty From Stifling Genius

Kelly Had Been in Germany Nine Years When Composition Fellowship Was Offered Him.

Oxford, O., Feb. 21. (By United Press)—Rather than permit financial poverty to stifle the genius of the ageing and world famous composer of symphonies, Edgar Stillman Kelley, the Western college for women here has placed him on the faculty and endowed him with a comfortable home and nothing to do but write music.

The "New England Symphony," the music in "Ben Hur," the modern music in "Macbeth" the symphonies "Gulliver" and "Aladdin" and the opera "Puritania" all are products of Kelly's pen. Emil Aberhoffer, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, has called Kelley "The American Brahms." J Walter Kramer, writing in "Musical America," referred to the "New England Symphony" as "America's most notable symphony."

In a little farmhouse 2 miles east of this city Kelley spent 2 years writing "New England." It cost $1,000 to publish it and it is much played but little purchased. Writing music that will live is poor business, financially.

Kelley had been in Germany 9 years when the College offered him the Composition Fellowship. With his wife, herself a talented musician, Kelley now lives at the college. He is 58 and such an indefatigable worker that his wife has to watch him carefully to see that he doesn't forget that his dinner is sitting beside him.

Stomach Troubles Quickly Cured.

People go on suffering from little stomach troubles for years, and imagine they have a serious disease. They over-eat or over-drink and force on the stomach a lot of extra work, but they never think that the stomach needs extra help to do the extra work.

If these people would take Tonoline Tablets regularly they would be a great big help to the stomach in its stram of over-work. No matter what you eat or drink Tonoline tabs sweeten your sour stomach and stop gas belching in five minutes. The heaviness disappears, and the stomach is greatly aided in its work of digestion.

not only promptly relieves all distress, but if taken regularly will absolutely cure indigestion by building up the flabby, overworked walls of the stomach and make them strong enough to digest the most hearty meal.

DAVID R. FRANCIS MAY BE SECRETARY OF WAR

Washington, Feb. 21. (By United Press) White House gossip which has made David R. Francis the president's choice for ambassador to Russia to succeed George T. Marye resigned, today switched to consideration of Francis for secretary of war. The new report became general coincident with the making of an engagement by the President to see Francis tomorrow morning. Supporting the belief was the known fact that Francis has declined the Russian post before it was offered to Marye.

TWO EPPELINS ADDED TO GERMAN NAVY EACH WEEK

Gondolas Are Armor Plated and Carry Six Machine Guns

erlin, Feb. 20—The Berlin press reproduces accounts from a Swiss source of recent developments in Zeppelins, according to which thousands of expert mechanics employed in the Friedrichshafen works are turning out one or two airships every week. The trial flights over Lake Constance never cease, and the noise of motors, which are tested day and night at the great Maybach motor works, may plainly be heard as far as Switzerland.

The Zeppelin trial flights are like military maneuvers. The airships have undergone a great change since the first types appeared. The new model is much longer and more slender. The two gondolas hang very low. No connecting gangway is visible, but probably is hidden within the vast body.

The gondolas are armor plated, but carry at least six machine guns and several larger pieces of artillery. The platform formerly noticed at the top of the baloon has disappeared. The airships show a metallic shine extending over onefifth of the whole body. Evidetly the envelope, or parts of it, has been metalized by the newly discovered process called metallsperitzen. The steering apparatus is much simplified and reduced in size. The motors are greatly enlarged. In the warlike maneuvers of the Zeppelins it is noticed that their ability to ascend, descend and turn has been astonishingly improved.

Not even the noise of their motors can drown the sharp staccato of the machine guns rattling away thousands of feet high over the lake. Sometimes the airships suddenly disappear entirely in a cloud of vapor emanating from its own body. If the atmosphere is the least foggy, the Zeppelins become absolutely invisible. Therefore it is no surprise that the English flyers failed to discover them. Only the brightest moonlight will reveal them at night, while sudden shafts of light from their own powerful searchlights make concealment impossible. Much is rumored about the new aerial torpedoes destined to play important part in the next raids.

Big Business Recognizes Publicity.

By BREEN.

In latter years the biggest enterprises in this country have recognized the value of advertising. The men in charge of their advertising campaigns are paid splendid salaries. In fact, no branch of the business receives more attention. Publicity and advertising form the keynote of success.

If big business needs advertising doesn't small business need it?

Every man in business needs advertising. If his business is a success he needs advertising to keep it so. If his business is struggling liberal advertising will build it up.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR HOME TALENT ENTERTAINMENT

Concert By Fifth Regiment Band And "The Minstrel Quarette" Will Be Features

Miss Mary Mitchell the Well Known Soprano of Clearfield Will Sing—Show Will be Presented Thursday & Friday.

The Firemen and the Fifth Regiment band have nearly completed all the details for the presentation of the band concert and vaudeville in the opera house Thursday and Friday of this week. The major portion of the entertainment will consist of a first class band concert; the band giving it needs no local introduction. This band has for years easily taken first prize at all the conventions in this section of the state where a band contest was a feature of the program, and usually in competition with the very best bands of the region.

Many of the Fifth Regiment band players individually enjoy a wide reputation as musicians of high merit. Harry P. Bridge is well known as a cornet soloist and has no equal outside the professional ranks, while Irven C. Kester, though younger, is equally as good. When players like Bridge, Kester and Henry I. Wilson—men who have repeatedly drawn down the highest encomiums of the best music critics—are scheduled to appear before a local audience all lovers of good music are thereby assured of hearing the best there is, with nothing further to be desired.

Who is there that does not love good music? Such persons are not very numerous but the few there are were properly designated by Shakespeare some 300 years ago.

Besides the band concert the special features by local talent will constitute a whole show. Miss Mary Mitchell will sing. The "Minstrel Quarteete" and the "Juevenile Reubens" will please any audience.

Our young people should be encouraged and this can be done in no better way than to show them that thei refforts are appreciated when they appear upon the stage, appreciation being manifested by a large and interested attendance at the performances.

The firemen will feel very grateful to the public if sufficient interest is shown to fill every seat in the Opera House at both performances, they are not asking for donations in this case but will give full value for all money received, and the money will remain right here in town.

PROBE INTO ACTIVITIES OF BREWER'S CONTINUES TODAY

Pittsburgh, Feb. 21. (By United Press)— United States district attorney Humes continued to delve into the alleged political activities of the brewers association of Pennsylvania before the federal grand jury today. It was reported that, federal agents will extend the probe of dealings with politics into Cambria county today or tomorrow. There were signs of determination to find what had been done with certain funds handled by Cambria county brewers.

CHICAGO POLICE WATCH STATION FOR JEAN CRONES

Chicago Feb. 21 (By United Press)—Police guarded every railway station closely today and detectives scrutinized passengers from every train in the belief that Jean Crones, alleged leader of the anarchist plot, might make a dare devil return to Chicago. U. S. OFFICIALS TO ASCERTAIN VALUE OF SCOUTING SYSTEM

Tonight at 11 o'clock eastern time a message will flash from the big government wireless station at Arlington. It will be awaited by hundreds of amateur wireless operators all over the county and will be relayed from one to another until it has reached California, Texas and in fact every state in the union., Thousands of boy scouts will be waiting at the various stations throughout the country to receive the message as it comes in. The message itself consists of a few words appropriate to Washington's birthday and in most big cities the scouts have arranged to carry it to the mayor.

Behind this apparently simple demonstration stands a wholly serious experiment for the government, for this is an effort on the part of the U. S. army officials to ascertain the practical value of the scouting movement and especially of the amateur wireless operators throughout the United States, in case of war or other emergency. So the time is to be carefully noted and the results reported to headquarters in Washington. In Clearfield the big wireless in Leitzinger's store has been called into requisition and a patrol of eight scouts from troop 2 will be on hand to receive the government's message.

CRISIS EXPECTED IN THE LUSITANIA SITUATION SOON

Situation Made Worse by Armed Merchantmen Proclamation

Washington, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—The situation in the Lusitania controversy has been made as grave as it was before the recent German concession as a result of Germany's issuance of the armed merchantmen proclamation. This was affirmed by the state department today. The possibility of a crisis arising from execution of the German and Austrian proclamation was admitted by the department. It shall arrive, it was stated, if American citizens are killed by the sinking of merchantmen or by the indefinite postponment of the Lusitania settlement. Officials refused to discuss the personal antagonism between Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Bernsdorff. It was stated, however, that any plan Secretary Lansing may have in the matter "will certainly not be given to the press before he has discussed them with the Ambassador."

AMERICANIZING FOREIGNERS' HOMES

This is the kitchen of the home of a family of four, a man, his wife and two children. Foreigners who have come to this country to make it their home.

The bedroom in this home was below the ground. The father of the family was suffering from tuberculosis, and, owing to the congested sleeping and living quarters, was in danger of transmitting the disease to the other members of the family.

The insanitary condition was discovered by an agent of the Housing Bureau of the State Department of Health. By working in co-operation with the local charitable organizations a decent four-room house was obtained for the family and the insanitary basement closed.

Through the Housing Bureau, Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon is endeavoring to improve conditions in certain sections of the State where there is a congested population and insanitary conditions almost equal to the slums of our large cities.

N.Y. HEALTH BOARD STARTS CRUSADE AGAINST LIQUOR

During Entire Week Department Purposes to Concentrate Forces In Fight

Commissioner Believes in Total Abstinence Does Not Think Campaign Will Result in Suppression of Liquor Traffic.

New York, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—If you derived an annual revenue of nearly $12,000 from the sale of intoxicants would you inaugurate a crusade for the suppression of the liquor traffic?

This is precisely what the city of New York has done. For an entire week beginning today the city department of health purposes to concentrate its forces for spreading its propaganda for temperance in the use of alcohol. Commissioner Emerson of the health department personally believes in total abstinence. He does not expect his campaign to result in a total suppression of the liquor traffic in the metropolis, but he confidently hopes that it will have the effect of reducing the consumption of intoxicants. In connection with his crusade he has put his official stamp of approval upon Thomas A. Edison's advocacy of the abolition of strong drink and the reduction of alcohol in beer to 2 per cent.

The official temperance crusade which was launched today is probably the first of its kind ever undertaken by any municipality in this country. During the week sanitary inspectors of the department of health will call at every place in the city where hard drinks are sold and leave pamphlets for those present to read, study, and digest—if they are so minded.

The department intends to carry its campaign into the richest and most luxurious of the city's drinking places. No exclusive congregation of Fifth Avenue club men will be immune from the intrusion

The character of some of the pamphlets will make them conspicuous, whether convivial or not. An unconcerned club fellow may be slipping his carefully compounded beverage when a pamphlet may be presented to him—if distributors get by the doormen—for his edification between swallows. On the front page is seen a cartoon representing a bibulous man seated at a table on which stands a glass of liquid labeled "Booze," while another figure, perched on a stepladder, gazes into the drinker's brain through a hole in his skull and murmurs "Nobody home."

Copies of this pamphlet and four others—two similar to it in character and two considered more dignified, a full house of temperance talks—will be left in all of the clubs, hotels, safes' saloons and restaurants in the city. And the same sort of leaflets that are deposited on the beer gummed bars of the tenement districts will be left on the polished tables of the clubs.

Dr. Charles F. Boldman, director of the bureau of public health education, is no respecter of places where good fellows get together. Being somewhat of a chemist, he has discovered that alcohol is alcohol wherever it is found. It's all "booze" to him and he has planned, therefore, that not matter where he does it, he who drinks may read the health department's temperance pamphlets.

So today there began an invasion of the clubs and hotels, an invasion that made Fifth Avenue and Broadway sit up and take notice. Dressed-up doormen and horrified hallboys bullied and remonstrated, but the arm of the law pushed open the big, carved doors, reached inside to the terrible presence of the senior member himself, and deposited before his incredulous eyes the screaming cartoons and shouting sentences of the health department's temperance literature.

The distribution of the pamphlets is but one feature of the campaign planned for the week. Tomorrow lantern slides are to be shown in nearly every motion pictures theatre in the city, and on each slide will be this printed encouragement of the one or two who may have gathered together for their second month's ride on the water wagon

"The intemperate use of alcohol is filling our asylums, hospitals, homes and jails. These are facts vouched for by the department of health, City of New York."

Wednesday will be "Croton Water Day." On that day, by direction of the city authorities, the teachers in all the public schools will tell their pupils how pure is Croton water and explain to them how pernicious is the alcoholic drink.

ANTHRACITE COAL MEN MEET TODAY TO DISCUSS WAGES

If Miner's Demands are Granted Price of Coal will be Increased Sixty Cents

[illegible] Representatives of Mine and Watchful Attention Closely and Doing Everything to Prevent a Big Strike.

New York, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—To see whether they can agree on wages and working conditions to replace those expiring April 1, representatives of hard coal mine owners and hard coal miners met here today.

The miners want 20 per cent increase in wages, the mine run system and better working conditions. The mine owners say they cannot grant enough to increase wages, the cost of living and [illegible] and that if the miners are granted the price of coal will go up 50 cents a ton to the consumer, which will take about $[illegible],000,000 a year more out of the consumer's pocket.

The miners reply that the war has made so much business for the coal men that they are making more money than they ever did before.

Representativese of the Allies [illegible] of manufacturers in America are watching the situation closely and will do everything in their power to prevent a big coal strike and the paralyzing of business thereby.

It is not believed probable that a general miners' strike will be called but in view of the distance apart the miners and operators seem to be on the new agreement, men in a position to know say it will be a stiff fight with a strike not altogether an impossibility.

The miners include in their demands an 8 hour day with time and a half for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays.

AVEZZANO, RUINED BY AN EARTHQUAKE HAS BEEN REBUILT

Italian-Americans Returned to City And Aided Friends And Relatives

Call of Blood Stronger Than Ocean With Which They Were Meeting In America—City Restored Within a Year.

BY HENRY WOOD

Avezzano, Italy, Feb. 21. (By Mail)—Thanks largely to Italian-Americans, Avezzano, which just a year ago today suffered one of the worst earthquake disasters in the history of the world, is today almost a completely restored city.

In just one year as much has been done towards rebuilding this city as has been accomplished at Messina in the ten years that have elapsed since it suffered a similar disaster. In both instances America played a large part in the work of restoration but at Avezzano American spirit and American influence accomplished miracles which just plain American dollars could not do at Messina.

[illegible] year ago the earthquake reduced Avezzano to a mere mass of ruins from which only 1200 people out of a total population of 13000 escaped, the news struck a responsive chord in the hearts of a particular class of people in America. These [illegible] were themselves in [illegible] had lived in and emigrated from Avezzano or the country immediately around it. Thousands of [illegible] had relatives here, and the call of blood as well as the call of the city of their nativity proved stronger than the call of success they were meeting with in their new homes in America.

Almost without exception these former residents of Avezzano abandoned their prospects in America and returned to succor their relatives and help build up the city of their birth. But in coming back to Italy they brought with them more than the few hundred or few thousand dollars that the average Italian immigrant accumulates in America before returning home. They brought with them the American spirit, American methods and American traditions. They brought with them an ineradicable remembrance of how San Francisco had risen from its ruins—because of them themselves had seen [illegible] the Frisco quake—and they set about doing at Avezzano what they had seen Americans do at San Francisco. The results have amazed all Italy, and especially Messina, which two years after its disaster, [illegible] to be its old self.

Avezzano whose population was [illegible] 13,000 to 1,200 by the [illegible] has 5,000 inhabitants. [illegible] possibly 1,000 of the survivors who remain here, the great [illegible] of the remainder are returned [illegible] That is why [illegible] faster than a [illegible] in America.

The government extended the same [illegible] to Avezzano that was extended to Messina, but without the Italian-American element it would hardly be what they are today. These enterprising descendants of which both [illegible] have come to be [illegible] carried out the demolition [illegible] partly wrecked houses, [illegible] walls, construction [illegible] and temporary [illegible] to contain 11,000 rooms, [illegible] containing 7,000 more rooms are being constructed; and [illegible] of the houses not [illegible] water works [illegible] light plant in full [illegible] possible for the [illegible] and are [illegible] to Avezzano with [illegible] and regular square blocks [illegible] after the American fashion of town building [illegible] quite contrary to Italian customs, [illegible] streets, [illegible] are the [illegible] facing [illegible] confront [illegible] and are [illegible] employed, constructing [illegible] providing [illegible] sanitation [illegible] for the people. They have in fact [illegible] American towns, where they [illegible] their ideas, one factor [illegible] likely declared war, sent her [illegible] contribution of 380 men, [illegible] of whom have since been killed, and their places filled by fresh Avezzano recruits.

A DEBT OF HONOR.

Republican politicians in the Legislature who defeated the local option bill at the last sesson made no secret of their reasons for espousing the cause of the liquor interests. Some of them at least were frank enough to base thei ropposition, not on the pretense that any principle of liberty was involved, but on the ground that having accepted money from the liquor men and having spent it for political purposes they regarded it as a "debt of honor," and were bound to legislate for the liquor men and not for the people. It is this "debt of honor" which is now the subject of investigation before a Federal Grand Jury in Pittsburgh, an inquiry that will not be satisfied until the whole story be laid bare. It is a tale of corrupt campaigning, of bought elections and legislation, of debauched officials. No one party has been the beneficiary of these contributions from the liquor men. Perhaps, as has been suggested in their defense, the brewer, distiller and saloonkeeper have acted in self-defense; but the system is none the less vicious. It is to be hope that no legal technicalities will be permitted to stop the probe until it has reached the bottom of the whole ugly business.—Public Ledger.

A PARABLE.

This time Russia in place of Germany! "Every month of the war has enriched the Russians," says Minister of Finance Bark, and gives as incontrovertible proof of the fact that "there is more money in the Russian savings banks than ever before." The story of the German soldiers, the beer keg and the ten-pfennig piece can not have reached Petrograd. The soldiers had been detailed to carry the keg after their company and to sell drinks out of it for ten pfennigs a drink. The heat of the day overcame the one with the money. He handed this ten pfennigs to the keg bearer and took a drink. He shouldered the keg. A mile further along the road th other soldier was overcome with thirst. He handed his friend the ten pfennig piece and took a drink. They continued to exchange the ten pfennig piece for drinks all day. When they reached camp they found that though every drink had been paid for and they had just as much money as ever—there was no beer. In like manner Russia and Germany may have as much money as ever and every shell made within their borders may have been paid for; but every day the stock of beer and skittles runs lower. And what availeth it a man, though his bank be bursting with gold, if there be no balm of Gilead?—Public Ledger.

RURAL GUARDIANS PROTECT CITY AND COUNTRY

Communicable disease is on the decrease in Pennsylvania. Statistics show that each year, in spite of the fact that the population of the State is increasing at the rate of one hundred and twenty thousand annually, the general health of the public is improving.

One of the factors which has aided the State Department of Health in the accomplishment of this work has been the rural health officers. There are some seven hundred of these officers, who cover every second-class township in Pennsylvania.

Until Dr. Samuel G. Dixon organized the State Department of Health ten years ago no effort was made in the rural districts in Pennsylvania to enforce quarantine, school exclusion, or to disinfect following cases of communicable disease. As a result of the close relation between the country and the State and the continuous exchange of products this made the country districts a menace to the cities.

Since the organization of the Department of Health these officers have served as the defensive force to keep disease from spreading among the residents of the rural districts, and from there into the cities, towns and boroughs.

Their supervision of cases of typhoid fever on dairy farms and the enforcement of the restrictions, preventing the careless disposal of the milk where such illnesses exist, has been one of the important factors in the reduction of typhoid fever in the State.

News Notes on Health

Individual illness places a tax upon the entire community. The prolonged sickness of wage earners is apt to result in poverty for themselves and their families. Indigency and crime itself are often lurking in the trail of disease.

National efficiency must rest upon the sound foundation of health. The reduction of sickness and death from preventable diseases should be the first step in our preparation for self-defense. Lord Beaconsfield said, "The public health is the foundation on which reposes the happiness of the people and the power of a country. The care of the public health is the first duty of a statesman."

In some states in the union there has been an increasing per centage of dependents as they have become more thickly populated. In addition to the enormous losses from death due to preventable disease when health laws are not enforced, there is a tremendous annual expenditure necessitated by this growing number of those who are unable to bear their part in the world's work.

The insane, the feeble-minded, the consumptive and the pauper are a heavy burden upon the tax payer.

Provisions and expenditures which will aid in the reduction of those things which sap the vitality of the nation, will aid in preventing the increased taxation for the support of the growing army of the unfit.

Participation of the federal government through the United States public health service in the study and control of tuberculosis is urged by a resolution adopted by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis made public today.

The National Association proposes that by act of congress a special division of tuberculosis be established in the United States public health service with an adequate appropriation. This division should be manned by experts and should study the tuberculosis problem from every point of view and should, so far as possible, set up standards for the treatment and prevention of the disease throughout the country. One of the problems which it is proposed to study first would be that of the indigent migratory consumptive, particularly in the health resorts of various parts of the United States, such as California, New Mexico, Colorado and Texas. Another problem which it is proposed shoud be studied is that relating to the causes of tuberculosis. A bill introduced by congressman Kent of California in the house and by Senator Norris of Nebraska in senate provides for some of the things which the National association asks for and also far a federal subsidy to hospitals caring for non-resident consumptives.

Commenting on the resolution Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, says "In spite of the fact that tuberculosis is costing the United States from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 every year in lives lost, the amount of money being spent annually by all private and public agencieae is not much more than $20,000,000; and while a nation-wide crusade to stamp out tuberculosis has been organized, we are still ignorant of many of the factors that produce it. A few thousand dollars wisely spent in scientific research under federal supervision will secure results of incalculable benefit to this country."

MURDERERS ELECTROCUTED IN WESTERN PENITENTIARY

First Double Execution In Electric Chair in the Stact

St. College, Pa., Feb. 21. (By United Press)—George H. March and Roland S. Penington of Delaware county were electrocuted early today in the death house of the western penitentiary, seven miles from here, for the murder of S. Lewis Pinkerton more than two and one half years ago. It was the first double execution under the law in Pennsylvania substituting the electric chair for the gallows.

Just at dawn Pennington whimpering and with a face of ashen gray, was first led to the chair. In less than a minute he was strapped in position and at 7:22 A. M. 2100 volts shot through his body. The electrical apparatus worked without mishap. The prison physician pronounced Pennington dead after the fourth shock. Unnerved by the purring of the dynamo directly under the death chamber only a few feet from his cell, March was led sobbing to the fate of his fellow slayer. With his face buried in his hands he cried, "Oh Roland, why didn't they take me first?" Both bodies were claimed by relatives.

If the Children Have Colds or Croup---Clip Coupon Aelow

Good at Your Druggists for a 25c. Package Free of the Southern "External" Treatment That Relieves Colds Over Night, Croup in Fifteen Minutes.

No Dosing—You Just Rub it On Over Throat and Chest—Relieves By Inhalation.

In the South everyone uses the "outside" treatment for cold troubles—Vick's Vay-O-Rub Salve. It is quicker than internal medicines, and, what is more important to mothers with small children, is entirely external, and hence does not injure the delicate stomachs of the little chaps. Vap-O-Rub however, has never been introduced in Clearfield, and, in order that their customers may give it a trial arrangements are being made for the local druggists to give away a limited number of 25c packages free to the first of their customers who present the coupon below. None of the druggists have received their shipments, but as there will be a rush for these free packages it is advisable to present your coupon now and ask your druggist to reserve you a free jar.

Vap-O-Rub comes in salve form, and has a two-fold action. Externally it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, and internally it is inhaled as a vapor. For croup or cold troubles you just apply it well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors are inhaled with each breath, all night long, and carry the medication through the air passages to the lungs.

For all forms of cold troubles—from head colds, asthmatic and catarrhal troubles, down to deep or incipient pneumonia, Vap-O-Rub will be found far superior to internal medicines.

COUPON NO. 3 C
Good for one 25c package of Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve free. Present this coupon now and your druggist will reserve your package.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By GREEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidney if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

SIZE OF HARD COAL REDUCED TO FOUR

Chicago, Feb. 21. (By United Press)—Large mining companies today notified local coal dealers that after April 1 the number of sizes in hard coal will be reduced to four. There now are ten sizes. It is planned to have one size about like egg coal for use in furnaces, one like nut coal for use in ranges, a third the size of pea of buckwheat, called steam, and a fourth comparable to the present size called birdseye. Coal men say the number of sizes has caused waste because some sizes will suddenly lag on scales, forcing the sale of large amounts of them at prices below cost.

COTTON MILL INTERESTS TRYING TO KILL CHILD LAW

Author of Bill Sends Appeal to the People to Write Their Congressman

Washington, Feb. 21 (By United Press)—Charging that southern cotton mill interests are conspiring to kill the child labor bill, Representative Keating of Colorado, its author, today issued a warning to the public and an appeal to "write your congressman."

"The plan of the selfish interests is to stave off action on the bill in the senate until it will be sidetracked by the preparedness program and put over at least until next term," said eating. "The cotton mill interests hope to delay any action by the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, which is friendly to the legislation and reported it last session. They propose to this and that the legislative committee visit the mill districts.

By holding up the bill in committee until the preparedness bills get before the senate, they plan to have 8 or 10 southern Democratic senators then serve warning that they will begin an endless filibuster against the preparedness measures unless the child labor bill is isdetracked for the session. It is then hoped to sacrifice the child labor bill in the interest of the preparedness program. The people should know just what this conspiracy is. They should write their congressmen and senators. Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who is in charge of the bill in the senate, is friendly to the measure."

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of type into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

DRINKING A DAIRY FARM DRY

Your family uses a quart or, perhaps, two quarts, of milk a day. What would you think of one that consumed three thousand quarts? That is the daily consumption of milk at the State's great Sanatorium at Mont Alto.

There are eleven hundred and fifty patients under treatment, and milk is one of the staple articles of diet prescribed by the Commissioner of Health, Samuel G. Dixon.

All of the dairy farms which supply the Institution are carefully inspected and must produce rich and cleanly milk to qualify for this use.

The patients are given milk and eggs between meals when their condition seems to require it, and as a result of good food in such ample quantities there are records of astonishing increase in the individual weight.

OSCEOLA SCHOOLS RAISE MONEY FOR LECTURE COURSE

Carnival In Fireman's Arcade Draws Large Crowd Friday Evening

Osceola Mills, Feb. 21. (Special)—The carnival held in the Fireman's Arcade on Friday evening by the teachers and pupils of the Osceola Public schools was a great success and over $175.00 realized which will be placed in the funds to help defray the expenses of the lecture course in which there is a deficit. The house was packed, many being unable to gain admission.

The opening chorus "We Hope You've Brough Your Smiles Along" put the audience in a good humor.

Under command of Kenneth Hewes a company of soldier boys gave an exhibition of their "Preparedness."

Nine girls demonstrated in song how the stars and stripes were made Their production of a beautiful large flag was heartily applauded.

A two part play representing the boyhood days and the wedding of George Washington was presented by a large cast of pupils who from the stage manager to the person who performed the ceremony all rendered their parts in a creditable manner.

A festival, food sale, side show, and other attractions on the second floor followed the entertainment and assisted in swelling the receipts. The teachers who worked and planned the affair deserve credit for it. With the exception of the discomforts of the crowded house everybody enjoyed the occasion.

FAMOUS COMPOSER MADE MEMBER OF COLLEGE FACULTY

Edgar Stillman Kelley Given Position to Prevent Poverty From Stifling Genius

Kelly Had Been in Germany Nine Years When Composition Fellowship Was Offered Him.

Oxford, O., Feb. 21. (By United Press)—Rather than permit financial poverty to stifle the genius of the ageing and world famous composer of symphonies, Edgar Stillman Kelley, the Western college for women here has placed him on the faculty and endowed him with a comfortable home and nothing to do but write music.

The "New England Symphony," the music in "Ben Hur," the modern music in "Macbeth" the symphonies "Gulliver" and "Aladdin" and the opera "Puritania" all are products of Kelly's pen. Emil Aberhoffer, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, has called Kelley "The American Brahms." J Walter Kramer, writing in "Musical America," referred to the "New England Symphony" as "America's most notable symphony."

In a little farmhouse 2 miles east of this city Kelley spent 2 years writing "New England." It cost $1,000 to publish it and it is much played but little purchased. Writing music that will live is poor business, financially.

Kelley had been in Germany 9 years when the College offered him the Composition Fellowship. With his wife, herself a talented musician, Kelley now lives at the college. He is 58 and such an indefatigable worker that his wife has to watch him carefully to see that he doesn't forget that his dinner is sitting beside him.

Stomach Troubles Quickly Cured.

People go on suffering from little stomach troubles for years, and imagine they have a serious disease. They over-eat or over-drink and force on the stomach a lot of extra work, but they never think that the stomach needs extra help to do the extra work.

If these people would take Tonoline Tablets regularly they would be a great big help to the stomach in its stram of over-work. No matter what you eat or drink Tonoline tabs sweeten your sour stomach and stop gas belching in five minutes. The heaviness disappears, and the stomach is greatly aided in its work of digestion.

not only promptly relieves all distress, but if taken regularly will absolutely cure indigestion by building up the flabby, overworked walls of the stomach and make them strong enough to digest the most hearty meal.

DAVID R. FRANCIS MAY BE SECRETARY OF WAR

Washington, Feb. 21. (By United Press) White House gossip which has made David R. Francis the president's choice for ambassador to Russia to succeed George T. Marye resigned, today switched to consideration of Francis for secretary of war. The new report became general coincident with the making of an engagement by the President to see Francis tomorrow morning. Supporting the belief was the known fact that Francis has declined the Russian post before it was offered to Marye.

TWO EPPELINS ADDED TO GERMAN NAVY EACH WEEK

Gondolas Are Armor Plated and Carry Six Machine Guns

erlin, Feb. 20—The Berlin press reproduces accounts from a Swiss source of recent developments in Zeppelins, according to which thousands of expert mechanics employed in the Friedrichshafen works are turning out one or two airships every week. The trial flights over Lake Constance never cease, and the noise of motors, which are tested day and night at the great Maybach motor works, may plainly be heard as far as Switzerland.

The Zeppelin trial flights are like military maneuvers. The airships have undergone a great change since the first types appeared. The new model is much longer and more slender. The two gondolas hang very low. No connecting gangway is visible, but probably is hidden within the vast body.

The gondolas are armor plated, but carry at least six machine guns and several larger pieces of artillery. The platform formerly noticed at the top of the baloon has disappeared. The airships show a metallic shine extending over onefifth of the whole body. Evidetly the envelope, or parts of it, has been metalized by the newly discovered process called metallsperitzen. The steering apparatus is much simplified and reduced in size. The motors are greatly enlarged. In the warlike maneuvers of the Zeppelins it is noticed that their ability to ascend, descend and turn has been astonishingly improved.

Not even the noise of their motors can drown the sharp staccato of the machine guns rattling away thousands of feet high over the lake. Sometimes the airships suddenly disappear entirely in a cloud of vapor emanating from its own body. If the atmosphere is the least foggy, the Zeppelins become absolutely invisible. Therefore it is no surprise that the English flyers failed to discover them. Only the brightest moonlight will reveal them at night, while sudden shafts of light from their own powerful searchlights make concealment impossible. Much is rumored about the new aerial torpedoes destined to play important part in the next raids.

Big Business Recognizes Publicity.

By BREEN.

In latter years the biggest enterprises in this country have recognized the value of advertising. The men in charge of their advertising campaigns are paid splendid salaries. In fact, no branch of the business receives more attention. Publicity and advertising form the keynote of success.

If big business needs advertising doesn't small business need it?

Every man in business needs advertising. If his business is a success he needs advertising to keep it so. If his business is struggling liberal advertising will build it up.
